Ethiopia, 15th century to today:

Portugal in the Orient and Prester John of Ethiopia and The Ethiopian Empire

Obelisk of Axum
1700 years
old

Dr. James Lewis earned a Master's degree in Historical Linguistics from Indiana University and a doctorate in Theology from the Graduate Theological Foundation at Oxford University. He had a thirty-year career in Television in Puerto Rico, New York and Wichita, principally in public television. He received two Emmy nominations by the New York Academy of Television Arts and sciences and has several publications, including most recently "Paths of Exiles: Narratives of St. Columba," a study of early Irish theology. With a life-long interest in Portuguese-Spanish history and literature, having spent many years in Puerto Rico doing theatre and television, as well as politics, he served as a senior aide to Gov. Hernandez-Colon with responsibilities for press and communications. He also was speech-writer for Mario Cuomo in his bid for election as mayor of New York City. His presentation will focus on the Portuguese expedition in the 1540s.

Yedu Hajigetu will present the history of Ethiopia 1880 – 2016. He has a MS in Public Administration and currently pursues a Doctorate in Business Administration and teaches at Butler Community College. He came to the US from Ethiopia in 1994.
